TAKING MILLIONS

Humana CEO Michael McCallister was paid $3.33 million last year and his company turned a $647 million profit. McCallister doesn't care about providing quality coverage — he just wants to make money.²

DECEIVING SENIORS

McCallister let his company mail thousands of Kentucky seniors a letter informing them that they would lose Medicare benefits if health insurance reform passes. The proposed reforms would eliminate excessive payouts to private insurers, while strengthening and extending Medicare benefits for seniors.³

OPPOSING REFORM

Health insurance companies like Humana spent over $126 million in the first half of 2009 lobbying to defeat health insurance reform. They don't want to be held accountable and they're doing everything they can to stop reform.⁴
